COMMENTS FROM THE TOWN MANAGER'S OFFICE

Residents who have not paid their 1976 property taxes are reminded that 10 day notices will be mailed the first of next week. If taxes are not paid within 10 days of the notice, liens will be placed against these properties.

The County Commissioners will be holding a tax hearing Tuesday night, July 12, at 7 p. m. in the Bethel Town Office. This hearing is the result of an appeal by Gene Buswell of the valuation placed on his property by the Sewall Company.

Residents who are planning to be away on vacations this summer are reminded that the Police Department will check your property while you are away. Call or come into the Town Office to provide the department with the information on your travel plans.

The Town has three high school students (Lee Hindman, Michael Friel, and Richard Littlefield) working on various public works projects this summer under the Federal Government's SPEDY program. These young people work 32 hours a week for a nine week period (June 27 to August 26).

The Board of Selectmen will hold their next meeting July 13 at 7:30 p. m. in the Town Office. This will be their only regular meeting during July. The Planning Board will meet Wednesday, July 13, to continue their work of updating the Town's Comprehensive Plan.

STORE EXPANSION

Work is moving right along on the construction of the expanded quarters of the Bethel IGA Food Store. The construction, which extends the full width of the store to the sidewalk on Main Street, will greatly enlarge the retail floor area of the store and enable the implementation of new customer services and convenience. The project has a tentative mid-August completion date.

PARADE PLANS FOR MOLLYCOKETT DAY IN HIGH GEAR

Plans are definitely in high gear for the annual parade up Main Street in Bethel on Mollycokett Day, Saturday, July 16. The Bethel Lions Club, urges everyone to get into the act and plan for the big event. All entries, floats, groups and marchers are urged to contact Charles Farrar or Maurice Bouchard in Bethel to let them know of their plans.

This year's theme will be "Yesterday, Today, Tomorrow". As in the past, there will be prizes for the three best floats, a first prize of $50, second prizes of $25 and a third prize of $15. These prizes will be awarded on the basis of how well they are in keeping with the theme, originality and beauty as well as other considerations deemed worthy by the Judges. Awards to marchers will also be made for the most original, the funniest and also the prettiest.

Judges for this year's parade, as in the past, will remain anonymous until after the event to preclude any bias. Rumor has it that they might be special guests at the Bethel Inn.

Plan for the parade! Don't forget all of the other events planned for Mollycokett Day. Bicycle races will begin at 8:30 a. m. and the fun will be on. The Woodmen's Field Day will start off the afternoon's activities and should be fun for everyone to participate in as well as watch. There will be many booths on the Common, games and Arts and Crafts displays. A chicken barbecue will help the hungry survive till the evening hours when music is scheduled to be provided by a "live" group. A beautiful fireworks display will then highlight the evening at approximately 9:30 p. m.

So come on and plan for a good Mollycokett Day!

MOLLYCOKETT DAY BARBECUE TICKETS AVAILABLE

On Mollycokett Day, Saturday, July 16, Bethel Rotary Club will serve on the Common from noon till 8 p. m. an Old Fashioned Chicken Barbecue together with corn on the cob and potato salad. The Assessors have completed work on the 1977 taxes and committed them to the collector. Total assessed value this year was $5,489,260, with an assessment ratio of 100%. The tax rate is .011, for a total commitment of $60,381.86, broken down as follows: Real Estate, Resident, $20,533.29; Non Resident, $37,610.32; Personal, Resident, $267.30; Non Resident, $1,940.95; Total $60,381.86. Under the Tree Growth Tax Law, $1,396,075 in valuation was lost. Without this loss the tax rate would have been .009. State Law now requires that all property now be taxed at a percentage of fair market value. The Assessors decided on an Assessment ratio of 100%, and have attempted to assess at full market value. Property was checked and revalued in an attempt to meet the requirements of the law. The State Bureau of Taxation have notified the towns that unless this is done, action will be taken. A study of sales is made by the Bureau of Taxation, and sales prices are compared to the local assessors records. This makes it mandatory that all property, with the exception of land under Tree Growth, be assessed on the basis of fair market value. Tree Growth values are set by the State every two years, and in most cases are much lower than market value. This places an extra burden on home owners and others not under Tree Growth, and actually is in direct contradiction to the law which says fair market value must be used.

The Ladies Circle will be meeting at Sue Wright's on Monday evening at 7:30. It is hoped members will make a special effort to be there as they will be working on the quilt.

North Paris

— Eveline Barrett, Corres. —

It seemed like a beautiful week end to celebrate the Fourth of July and I hope all the motorists reached their destination without accidents or mishaps. We went to South Paris Saturday and the traffic was very heavy.

Mr. and Mrs. Sid Abbott have started to build a new home just above her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Andrews. The cement foundation was put in Wednesday last week. Welcome to North Paris.

Mr. and Mrs. John O'Hearon and eight children are packing and getting ready to go west July 5, to Phoenix, Ariz. It's quite a drive. Lorenzo Cole called on Joe Barrett Wednesday and brought him his L.O.O.F. membership card.

Doris Lawrence was unable to work Thursday afternoon and Friday due to a rheumatoid spasm.

Mr. and Mrs. Joe Kalinowski had a "Hootenanny" at "Big Rock" on July 3. Mr. and Mrs. Bob Wilcox, Mr. and Mrs. Carmen Chambrillo, Portland, Conn., arrived July 2 to assist. More details next week, as I am writing this Saturday morning instead of Monday.

Many of the out of town workers are on vacation the week of July 4. May they have a good week.

Loie O'Hearon drove Janet Cohen to Portland Wednesday for a doctor's appointment.

I had a door yard chat with Phillip Hyam and he is better. Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Seavey have moved to Miami, Fla. Herbert Stevens has two new horses to care for.

We have had a home wedding and reception in town but I haven't received the particulars yet. Maybe next week when we have more time.

Margaret Stevens has had trouble with her back but is working now.

This Saturday morning is beautiful. Not too hot with a lovely breeze. Let's hope it stays that way for a few days. The peas are ready and the grass is nice and heavy and tall so let's save the rain for a later date.

— Clarice Gibson, Corres. —

4th of July week end has already come and gone. The weather was very cooperative. Monday it was overcast most of the day; but at least, where we were, the rain never actually materialized.

What a contrast now from the 4th we celebrated as a child. All youngsters, and a lot of those who weren't so young, bought themselves packages of small firecrackers. The more daring had much larger firecrackers. We also had sparklers and after dark we used to stand outdoors and have the sparklers we had saved for dark. Will confess usually we couldn't wait until dark, so kept lighting them off and on all day.

There was a lot of devilry going on but can't remember any one actually destroying property. A lot of the week end news will get left out until next week as Monday, Frank, Ira and I took James and friend Sue Keefe back to Old Town. They both have summer jobs at U. of M. and will be resuming their college studies next September. They stayed here from Friday until we took them back. We ate dinner at Sing's in Bangor. Friday we also had an overnight guest, Kenneth Davis from Newry.

Tuesday of last week we had my aunt Sara Andrews from AL.

bany and parents, Mr. and Mrs. George Allen from Norway.

Monday after we got back from Orono, my nephew and wife, Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin Tucker III and son, came for a visit. Ira and Ben that Ben IV didn't want to go home.

Mr. and Mrs. Sam McCoy entertained his cousin, Margaret Cook from Springfield, Mass.

Miss Roberta Saunders was hostess at a party Thursday at her parents' home. Those present were Mrs. Shirley Seames and daughters, Mary Jane Gaudreau and Vicki Morton, Judy Coolidge and baby and Roberta's mother, Pat. Mrs. Eleanor Monton was demonstrator.

Gerry and Joe Shimamura had a lawn sale Saturday and Monday at their place on Vernon Street. On Sunday Mrs. Thelma Merrill's brother and wife, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Bond and two sons from Bow, N. H., visited Mrs. Thelma Merrill and the Shimamura family.

Sunday was Ira's birthday. Both brothers called over the week end. George and Wilfred, and of course James was here.

Guess I better get hoed out here as not much housework was done over the week end.

Mrs. Collista Morgan, Correspondent

Have you been to the hills of New England now that summer is draping roses red on climbing pillars and posts by cozy cottages while hanging white satin clouds are over head? Have you felt their softness and breathed of their fragrant scent, noted their tint and lovely texture? How delicate they are. I stopped by the old cellar wall where they were coaxed from many a cranny by Queen Summer's call at the top of "scenic hill" one day this week.

I caught the fragrance of the red drops of beauty on the drab littered ground where they had shed their petals to be scattered by the wind. They live so briefly, but today they were so rich.

The bright day stretched in lazy ease. All down the hill bright flowers in exquisite array, a riot of color, were dancing in the breeze, no two alike, variety undulating. Although I have viewed them many times, I think it worth the energy of a hilly trip merely to see and take back a few memories.

At this time there is a drifting fragrance of new mown hay for the sun walked arm-in-arm with the fields of grass for a few days. It is then that the crops make headway as if racing in the sun.

Out across the fields and to the woodlot I went. Here beneath great firs and spruces I had to watch carefully the lower dead branches reaching out in all directions.

Coming to the brook where soft breezes scamper and rippled, I sat for a while just to look and to listen. There was a fragrant hush, the water as cool as glass, as it went its way over moss-bed after moss-bed traveling down, down through the farm fields, past the gardens to the pond. The ground's soft green cushion stretched out beside every pool. I lingered for a time then went again to the open fields and the hill top then on home.

"I like to climb to the top of the hill Upon a summer's day, And watch the great white billowing clouds Go sailing on their way. I like to lie on the soft warm turf And see the wind-stirred trees; To smell the fragrance of the flowers And hear the hum of bees. I like to look on the cozy farms And fields and lanes below. Oh, to climb to the top of a hill Is the pleasantest thing I know!"

Mr. and Mrs. David Holt, Princeton, and Ann Holt, Bethel, were with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Leonas Holt over the holiday week end.

Mr. and Mrs. Pat DiArenzo, of Springfield, Pa., have arrived at their home here for the summer.

Mr. and Mrs. Brennan, Massachusetts, came to their cottage over the week end.

Pat Johnson, Massachusetts, was a caller at Dorothy Curtis' over the week end.

Rachel Bean Perkins, of Springfield, visited me on Sunday. We visited various Greenwood cemeteries searching for the name Nichols, her mother's father's name who had been traced to Greenwood. We had no success after going to six cemeteries. At the Hayes Homestead: Mrs.

REMARKS OF MR. THROOP AT GOULD GRADUATION HONOR MR. DOLVEN

"All of you know that our Headmaster Dick Dolven is leaving Gould later this month to accept a challenging opportunity as head of a large day school near New Haven, Connecticut. His leaving Gould at this time is consistent with the views he expressed when he came to Bethel nine years ago to the Trustees. When he came to Gould nine years ago Dick made a commitment to the Trustees to provide the leadership which would then so might be necessary to accomplish his goals for the Academy, but he cautioned us then in his view a change in leadership of an educational institution after eight, or nine, or ten years, or so, was generally beneficial to the institution and to the headmaster.

"Dick has more than carried out his commitment. Few of us who are not intimately connected with Gould can appreciate the tremendous accomplishments of the Academy. He came the first year after the opening of the local regional high school to an institution that only a few years before the Trustees had considered turning over to the University of Maine to institute a branch college. We had previously adopted a policy of accepting no new boarding students who would not be able to graduate. Accordingly, the boarding enrollment was barely one hundred students.

"Although Gould was well known and highly regarded as an outstanding school in the state of Maine, it was not widely known elsewhere and faced heavy competition from many other good schools better known and nearer the metropolitan population centers. Further, this was a time of large families, improving public education and facilities, and increasing expense of private school education.

"Notwithstanding these factors within six years Dick had just about doubled the size of the school to its capacity and had persuaded the Trustees to construct a new dormitory to house the additional students. He had maintained the traditional high academic standards of the Academy, and he had revitalized the faculty and instituted new programs. In short, he had effected an almost unbelievable turnaround in the fortunes of our school.

"During the past three years he has developed further the programs he instituted and has worked with the faculty and trustees in seeking to define the kind of school Gould should be and the niche it should seek to fill in the educational spectrum. This is a never-ending task in a changing world and will continue under Dick's successor, but a firm foundation has been laid for the next phase of Gould's development.

"Obviously Dick's accomplishments for Gould have not been achieved without the help of many others, some who preceded him here and continued during his administration and some who Dick brought to the Academy. The faculty he has assembled is a devoted one which works single mindedly for the welfare of the Academy and its students. No special recognition because Dick's administration has been very much a team effort, but I do want to take this opportunity publicly to thank Ted Grover, our Dean of Students who is retiring this year, for his contribution to the Academy. Education was a second career for Ted when he came to Gould some ten years ago. I hope it has been a fulfilling one for him. His contribution to Gould has been real and we will miss him and Chris.

"There is nothing I can say or that Gould can do to express adequately our deep appreciation for Dick's and Maizy's commitment to the Academy. We hope they know our sentiments. But we can give them at least tokens of our thanks as mementos of their years at Gould.

"We wish them the best of success and happiness in their future and hope they will return to Gould often."

LOCAL WOODSMEN TO COMPETE JULY 16 AS FEATURE OF MOLLYCOKETT DAY

The Mollycoddett Woodsmen's Field Day, Saturday, July 16, is being sponsored by members of the Bethel Rotary Club for the purpose of maintaining the woodsmen competition in Bethel and to defray the cost of Mollycoddett Day and/or general fund raising.

This competition is organized with the cooperation of the local lumber, wood products, machinery industry, and power saw manufacturers. All individual contestants are designed to enable the local working woodsmen to participate with their own saws and tools which they use daily in the performance of their job. Emphasis is placed on how well a woodsmen can file and maintain his saw and how well he can perform his routine job of felling, bucking, log rolling, log throwing, wood splitting, and wood carving. All by-products, such as cut wood, split wood, and wood slabs will be auctioned off during competition in shape of rough sawn log benches, foot stools, and fire wood.

There will be eight individual contests: An entrance fee of $2 per event or $10 for all events will be charged at time of registration. All participants must be registered no later than one week prior to the contest (July 9). All entry fees will be divided into three parts, one part for prizes and trophies and/or ribbons, one part for expenses for contest, and one part for Rotary.

EVEN A MULE DRIVER can smell the scent of a desirable woman." Debbie Buck in a scene from "13 Rue De L'amour."

WHAT'S NEW AT THE LIBRARY?

"October Light," by John Gardner (NF). This is the latest Gardner novel and shows in its intricacy and depth that Gardner will be considered one of America's finest writers.

"Midnight Express," by Bill Hayes (NF). It seems hard to believe that this book is fiction, so bizarre are its contents. It will have particular appeal to men as it tells of the ordeal of a young American held in a Turkish prison for many years. An excellent adventure tale. CPT

"Majesty," by Robert Lacey (NF). This is an interesting and enlightening book on the House of Windsor. The family of Queen Elizabeth II and herself are discussed openly and freely. In the 25th year of the Queen's reign this will be a very popular book.

"Learning to Say Good-By," by Edna LeShan (NF). This a good, sound approach for both children and adults on the death of a parent. It helps children understand what has happened and the questions, fears and fantasies they have about the parent who has died and the people who are still alive. JB

"The Plug-in Drug," by Marie Winan (NF). A very alarming book about the way we use television. People have become addicted to the TV. It stresses the harmful effects of TV on the preschool child pointing out that watching TV so much they miss out on playtime, time to read or spend with family members. Every parent will want to read this informative and alarming book. DWB

"The Modern Deer," by John D. Cartier. This is a must for the lover of the outdoors. Look for it on the reference table.

"Time Life—Home Repair and Improvement Series." This is an excellent series for the man or woman who likes to fix-it themselves. There is a volume on Masonry and one on Plumbing. There will be more to come each month.

DEMOCRATIC SYMPOSIUM IN BETHEL THURSDAY, JULY 14

President Jimmy Carter's comprehensive national energy proposal will be the topic of a symposium sponsored by the Oxford County Democratic Committee on Thursday, July 14, in the Community Room of the Bethel Savings Bank. State Representative Richard S. Davies of Orono will serve as the principle speaker and coordinator for the discussion. Davies, House Chairman of the legislative Energy Committee, is well-respected for his research and knowledge in the field of energy. The program will provide Democrats from Oxford County with the opportunity to find out more about the Carter proposals and their effects on Maine and the nation. In addition, a questionnaire will be available to all who attend. The results of the survey conducted by Maine Democratic Party Headquarters at similar programs throughout the state will be tabulated and forwarded to the Maine Congressional Delegation and to the White House.

The Energy Symposium will be held on July 14, 1977, beginning at 7 p. m. and is open to Democrats throughout the county. County Chairman Paul McGuire of Bethel, is in charge of the arrangements for the meeting.

PLANS NECESSARY FOR ADEQUATE USE OF MAINE'S RESOURCES IN NEXT 25 YEARS

Maine's resources will be adequate to meet the demands of the next 25 years only if the state develops plans to use them wisely, according to a report released this week by the Commission on Maine's Future.

The report, based on more than two years of research by the volunteer panel, concludes that Maine's future can be a good one in each of 11 major areas it studies.

But it also documents a number of present and future problems that it says the state must meet and outlines policy alternatives it thinks Maine people should consider.

The reports lays particular stress on the need to preserve and manage the state's natural resources, on which it says "the future of Maine depends almost entirely." Future demands on those resources will be progressively heavier, it says, as mounting energy costs force the Northeast states to turn increasingly to local sources of food and wood products. Economic growth will also depend on resource availability.

In order to prepare for the challenge, the Commission urges Maine people to consider: expansion of the Service Forestry Program to provide small landowners with increased assistance in managing their woodlots; development of a comprehensive management plan for Maine's fisheries; provision of state assistance to fishermen in the design and construction of more modern vessels and equipment; research into the feasibility of growing agricultural products in greenhouses heated by waste heat from utilities and industry; exemption of farmland from the property tax with replacement by a municipal tax on farm income.

The report puts forth a series of tough alternatives for energy conservation, including the development and adoption of a statewide building code and the imposition of high excise taxes on "second cars" not required for employment.

Other options are proposed for discussion in issue areas including economic development, human services, transportation, and education.

"I think it is fair to say the options and suggestions now under consideration by the Commission are both provocative and exciting," said Commission Chairman Halsey Smith, who released this report. Smith said it was his "earnest hope" that Maine people would "consider them carefully over the summer months."

He noted that the Commission, which was created by the 106th Legislature, had so far refrained from making definite recommendations of its own, but had only identified alternatives from which policies might be selected. He said the Commission would express its own preferences in a final presentation to the Governor and Legislature on Nov. 1.

Smith said the Commission's ultimate recommendations would be strongly influenced by public reactions to proposals put forth in the preliminary report. He said that the Commission plans to arrange public meetings to hear the report in over 100 communities in order to gauge public sentiment regarding those proposals.

UMO DEAN'S LIST NAMES 2,086 FOR SPRING SEMESTER

A total of 2,086 undergraduate students at the University of Maine at Orono attained the Dean's List for achieving scholastic rank of 3.0 or better on a 4.0 scale during the spring, 1977, semester. The total which represents about 23 percent of the full-time undergraduate population at UMO, is considerably smaller than the 2,589 named to the Dean's List in the spring, 1976 semester. The drop is partly attributable to the fact that two colleges have raised the requirements for making the list. The College of Arts and Sciences now requires an academic average of 3.3 while Life Sciences and Agriculture requires a 3.2 average.

Those named to the list for the spring, 1977, semester include 1589 from all 16 counties of Maine, 494 from 24 other states and three from Canada. Among those named to the Dean's List were:

MRS. EVELYN C. BENNETT

Mrs. Evelyn Crosby Bennett, the widow of Harold Gilman Bennett, passed away on June 27, 1977, at her son's home in Falls Church, Va., where she had been living for the past 10 months.

She was born in Arlington, Mass., on March 28, 1903, the daughter of J. Howell and Daisy (Conant) Crosby. She attended the Arlington schools and was a graduate of Miss Pierce's Secretarial School in Boston. For several years before her marriage she was a secretary of the Dean of the Harvard Engineering School. In 1945 she moved with her husband to Bethel, where she had been a resident for 32 years.

Evelyn, or Ellie as she was known by many, helped in the management of the Riverside Farms dairy business and took over its operation in 1961 after the death of her husband. Through the operation of the dairy business, visits from her relatives, and development of many personal contacts in the town over the last 30 years, she had many close friendships she valued so highly during the last months of her life away from Bethel. Just prior to her death, she had been counting the days until she could return to see her friends and revisit the places she had grown to love so well. During the past winter she had spent many hours reading the "Sunday River Sketches"—pleasant reminders of her youthful summers spent at Miss Locke's.

She is survived by her son, Donald G. Bennett, a daughter-in-law, Katherine, a granddaughter, April, and three sisters, Mrs. Julian C. Howard of Kennebunkport, Mrs. Earl S. Williamson of Newry, and Miss Ruth Crosby of Orono, both currently residing on Sunday River; as well as by numerous other relatives.

On Saturday, July 9, at 2 p. m., Reverend Thomas L. Caton will conduct a committal service for Evelyn at the Bethel Riverside Cemetery to which all of her family and friends are invited.
